UNIVERSITY TEACHING ROLES

Program Director Masters of Science in Population Medicine Program

Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University 2014 - present
I am Director of the Master of Science in Population Medicine program that is a four-year dual degree program for medical students that allows them to earn a MD and ScM degree. The program has had on average a total of 64 students in the program. I work with course leaders on curriculum integration and with students on developing a thesis project.

Course Director MED 2030 Research Methods in Population Medicine

Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University 2015 – present
I am director for this course that introduces medical students to research and provides them with skills necessary to develop and conduct a thesis project. I was co-director from 2105 -2020 and now sole course director. I created the curriculum for the course, jointly created content and lecture throughout the course.

Course Co-Director CH 540 Community Health Clerkship

Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University 2004-2014
For ten years, I was Co-Director of this required 6-week clerkship for students. Curriculum was constantly refined throughout this period. With the restructuring of the clinical years for medical students this clerkship ended, and its content moved to other areas in the curriculum. Over the ten years the approximate average class size was 85 students.

Field Experience Site Director CH540 2001-2013
Individual preceptor for students assigned to IPC for 6-week field experience in injury prevention during Community Health Clerkship
Course Lecturer: "Restricting Personal Freedoms for Public Health"

Course Faculty EM5620 Emergency Medicine Clinical Elective

Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University
Clinical preceptor 1998 - present
Associate Director 2000 – 2001
Course Small Group Leader 2016 - 2019

Since coming to Brown as faculty, I have participated in the clinical teaching of medical students in the emergency department. In addition to bedside teaching, from 2016 until May 2019, I met with students in a small group format during their clinical elective month for a one-hour session discussing screening and brief interventions for substance abuse in the emergency department (average monthly class size six).

Course Faculty PHP2023 Maternal and Child Health in the United States

Brown University School of Public Health
Course lecturer 2019, 2020, 2021 16 students/year
This course started in 2019 and I provide a lecture on the burden of injury for children and interventions for injury prevention and control.

Course Faculty AMS Gateway Program

Course lecturer 2018, 2019, 2021, 2022, 2023 30 students/year
Alpert Medical School of Brown University
I have provided a lecture to the students in the AMS Gateway program on Injury Prevention and Control.

Course Faculty BIOL3656 Health Systems Science I 2021, 2022 144 students/year

Alpert Medical School of Brown University
I have provided an online lecture to the first-year medical student class during the fall semester on responsible conduct of human subject research

Faculty Preceptor IS7100 Independent Study Elective Preceptor

Alpert Medical School of Brown University 1999- present
Since coming to Brown, I have been a faculty preceptor for medical students doing Independent Study. Although all are unique, a common thread is to assist students in a research project they are completing during medical school.

Course Co-Director PHP2170 Injury as a Public Health Problem

Brown University School of Public Health, Department of Epidemiology
Fall Semester 2012, 2013, 2014

As course Director then Co-Director, I taught this seminar course on injury prevention to public health graduate students. Average course size was 6.

Faculty Advisor PHP2980 Graduate Independent Study and Thesis Research
Brown University School of Public Health

I have been faculty advisor to PhD students for their thesis research

Faculty Advisor PHP2985 MPH Independent Study for Thesis Preparation and Research, Brown University School of Public Health

I have been faculty advisor to PhD students for their thesis research

Faculty Advisor PHP1994 Case Studies in Maternal and Child Health
Brown University School of Public Health Summer 2015, 2016

I have been faculty advisor to students for their field experience project

GRADUATE MEDICAL EDUCATION – RESIDENT AND FELLOW EDUCATION

Fellowship Director Collis Injury Prevention Research Fellowship 2006-2023
Department of Emergency Medicine, Rhode Island Hospital

I created then led as the fellowship director this post residency non-ACGME physician fellowship that developed skills for becoming a clinical researcher with a focus on injury prevention research.

Emergency Medicine Attending Clinical teaching Miriam Hospital Emergency
Department, Brown University Program in Emergency Medicine, 1999 – 2022

Since coming to Brown, I was active in teaching within the emergency medicine residency program.
