DANCE COMPANY POSITIONS

2016-Present	SetGo Contact Improvisation Research and Performance Ensemble , Founding Member
--------------	---

SetGo is a Contact Improvisation Research and Performance ensemble founded in 2016 by dancers Shura Baryshnikov, Aaron Brando, Paul Singh, Bradley Teal Ellis, and Sarah Konner. Though all are interdisciplinary artists, each identifies Contact Improvisation as a primary practice and are lead researchers and educators in the field, both nationally and internationally. Collectively, SetGo has been practicing the form of Contact Improvisation for nearly 70 years. The SetGo Ensemble shares a love for whimsical, whole-hearted, virtuosic improvisation; they have been dance-making together since 2009.

2015-2018	Doppelgänger Dance Collective , Co-Founding Producing Artistic Director

Doppelgänger Dance Collective is a dancer-directed repertory company focused on the creation and performance of original, contemporary choreographic work for duet performance. Founded in 2015 by co-directors Shura Baryshnikov and Danielle Davidson, DDC offers choreographic commissions to a diverse group of dancemakers each season, asking for reconsideration of the traditional choreographer/dancer hierarchy as well as who controls the means of production. With an undeniable energetic compatibility and compelling chemistry in performance, the pair conceived of a project to capture this duality, their immediate bodily complicity, while also making a persuasive argument for dancers' curation as a valuable form of creativity.
