GRANTS AND OTHER FUNDING

- Educational Grant for supporting The Brown Beam NICU POCUS Bootcamp, July 18/19, 2026 at the Women and Infant's Hospital of Rhode Island/The Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University

Funding Agency – Chiesi

Funding Amount: $5000

- Funding for purchase of Point of Care Ultrasound machine for neonatal intensive care unit at the Women and Infants hospital of Rhode Island, Providence, RI. 11/2024
Funding source: Shriners of Rhode Island Charities Trust.
Funding Amount: $43,471.30
- Children’s Miracle Network Hospitals Grant, Feb 2024: Grant awarded to support establishment of Point of Care Ultra-Sound (POCUS) Program for the division of Neonatology and purchase of POCUS machine for patient care and research.
Award amount: $48,967.65,
Role: Principal Investigator
- The Gerber Foundation, Feb 2023: Evaluation of a new, highly sensitive, genomics study panel for rapid, non-invasive diagnosis of neonatal sepsis (early onset) in high-risk preterm infants.
Concept letter - accepted
Current status - Not Funded. - To be resubmitted
Role: Principal Investigator
- University of Florida Dean’s Fund Faculty Research Grant, Oct 2017 to Sept 2019: Implementation of a Sepsis Risk Calculator (SRC) in Newborn Nursery to reduce Antibiotic usage and Hospital Cost.
Award Amount: $8775, Role: Principal Investigator

POCUS WORKSHOP FACULTY

- Invited faculty at NYU Langone Annual Pediatric and Neonatal POCUS CME workshop, New York, Sept 14-15, 2024, Sept12-13,2025.

REGIONAL

- Organizer and Faculty at Florida Chapter of AAP’s Annual Conference- The Future of Pediatric Practice ‘Pediatric POCUS Champions Masterclass in Point of Care Ultrasound’- a featured event. Orlando, FL, Aug 28-31, 2025

INSTITUTIONAL

- Started Division's Point of Care Ultrasound program as Co-Director of Point of Care Ultrasound, NICU at Women and Infant's hospital of Rhode Island.
- Created a POCUS scope of practice document for the division outlining various NICU applications, practice guidelines and credentialing criteria.
- Started formal fellow and APP POCUS Educational Curriculum. (started Jan 2025- Present). Educational curriculum involves regularly scheduled POCUS didactics, POCUS clinical rounds, case discussions, pathways for Q/A and competency assessment.
- POCUS workflow set up with Qpath - an electronic POCUS image software for Q/A, education and research.
- Faculty Development – POCUS educational modules
- Established and trained division's Point of Care Ultrasound Vascular Access Team – set up a specialized team of NICU RNs and APPs for POCUS based vascular access for difficult iv access, PICC and PAL placement.
- Started Division's Biweekly POCUS Newsletter to foster interest and education within the division for the use of POCUS in day-to-day neonatal practice. October 2025- present

RESEARCH CURRENT RESEACH/QI PROJECTS

- Little Lungs Big Love – A quality improvement project to improve parental communication and education of infants with BPD through a structured, longitudinal, family centered program. QI lead and mentor to Dr. Elizabeth McGovern, first year fellow at the Brown Neonatal Perinatal Medicine fellowship program/Women and Infants Hospital of Rhode Island.
- BIT:s 2.0 - Project lead- A QI project to improve the quality of care and outcomes of infants with BPD by developing a structured, multidisciplinary BPD team, standardized treatment protocols and a family centered care approach involving transitioning from a BPD consultative practice to a BPD comprehensive care team at an 80-bed regional NICU for the state of Rhode Island.
- Genotypic and phenotypic characterization of pathogenic neonatal Escherichia coli strains – SIREN Study (Surveillance of invasive and Resistant E. coli in Neonates) Site PI – multisite study. Primary PI- Dustin Flannery, DO, MSCE, Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia.
- Multi-omics approach to severe bronchopulmonary dysplasia – a multicenter pilot project – Site PI. BPD Collaborative Study. PI – Leif Nelin MD and Steve Abman MD

- Gravitas Feeding Tube System Placement Validation in Neonate- multisite study; Co-investigator- POCUS lead.
- Blind Mini-Bronchoalveolar Lavage (BAL) in Neonates with Ventilator Associated Pneumonia and the Impact on Antibiotic Usage, Co-PI. The primary aim is to determine if bacterial cultures obtained using blind mini-BAL impacts on selection of antibiotics used to treat ventilator-associated pneumonia. Additionally, the study aims to compare bacteria isolated from standard tracheal aspirate to those of mini-BAL and explore neonatal lung microbiome as well as analyze neonatal pulmonary pro-inflammatory responses.
- Evaluation of Lung ultrasound for prediction of extubation outcomes and assessment of the utility of serial lung ultrasound scores in monitoring adequacy of post extubation support. PI and mentor for neonatology fellow, Dr. Aly Soliman
- To improve parental understanding and education on Bronchopulmonary dysplasia- A quality improvement project: team coach/mentor (neonatology fellow)

CLINICAL:

- Medical Director of Respiratory Services- In this role, I coordinate care and communication between medical team and respiratory teams, provide clinical oversight, schedule RT education, evaluate new equipment and ensure smooth functioning and collaboration in the respiratory team. July 2024- present
- Director, Bronchopulmonary Dysplasia Program- In this role I serve as the neonatal representative and lead for the multi-disciplinary BIT:s team (BPD interdisciplinary team: severe) that is collaborative team comprised of Neonatology, Peds Pulmonology, Peds Cardiology, and other disciplines within the NICU that care for infants with BPD. I also represent our center at the BPD Collaborative along with my PICU colleague.

- Setting up a Brown NICU BPD core team-called BIT:s 2.0 and leading transition from a consultative practice to a stand-alone BPD team with evidence based comprehensive BPD care practices, bi-weekly meetings, creation and review of BPD guidelines and protocols of care. Lung ultrasound and hemodynamic evaluations will be integrated with the goal of tailoring management based on unique patient physiology and close longitudinal monitoring to inform care.
- Building research protocols and quality improvement projects to implement best practices for the care of BPD patients.
- POCUS – Setting up a POCUS program for the NICU based on the foundation of a comprehensive educational program with close clinical supervision and hands on scanning practice with close monitoring and robust QA workflow. Trainees, APPs, and faculty interested in POCUS are getting trained with a pathway for competency and credentialing.
- Creation of a POCUS Vascular access team in the NICU and training PICC team nurses on the use of Point of Care ultrasound for obtaining difficult iv access, PICC lines and peripheral arterial lines.
- Setting up POCUS protocols for various POCUS applications in the NICU
- Conceptualizing and leading Brown’s Annual POCUS Bootcamp event as part of New England NICU POCUS Collaborative called The Brown Beam- NICU POCUS Bootcamp. Inaugural event at The Women and Infants Hospital of Rhode Island on July 18th/19th, 2026 to train NICU POCUS skills to learners in the New England region.
