1. DATE OF PREPARATION

July 25th, 2017

2. EDUCATION

Ph.D. (Epidemiology) 2008-2011
School of Population and Public Health Vancouver, Canada
University of British Columbia

- Thesis: The epidemiology of methamphetamine use among street youth and injection drug users.
- Advisors: Drs. Thomas Kerr & Jean Shoveller

M.Sc. (Epidemiology) 2006-2008
Department of Health Care and Epidemiology Vancouver, Canada
University of British Columbia

- Thesis: Sexual behaviours among a cohort of street-involved youth in Vancouver.
- Advisors: Drs. Thomas Kerr & Jean Shoveller

B.Sc. (Hon) (Biophysics) 2001-2006
Department of Physics Vancouver, Canada
University of British Columbia

- Thesis: Modelling FtsZ ring formation during the early stages of Escherichia coli cell division.
- Advisor: Dr. Eric Cytrynbaum

3. POSTDOCTORAL TRAINING

Postdoctoral Research Fellow Jan 2011 – Dec 2011
Department of Epidemiology New York, NY
Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health

- Advisor: Dr. Sandro Galea

4. EMPLOYMENT RECORD

Associate Professor (with tenure)	Jul 2017 - present
Manning Assistant Professor of Epidemiology	Jun 2016 – Jun 2017
Graduate Program Director	Jan 2015 – Feb 2016
Assistant Professor	Jan 2012 – May 2016
Department of Epidemiology	Providence, RI
Brown University School of Public Health
Analytic Coordinator	Jan 2008 – Dec 2010
Research Assistant	Sep 2006 – Dec 2007
Urban Health Research Initiative	Vancouver, Canada
British Columbia Centre for Excellence in HIV/AIDS

5. MEMBERSHIPS ON PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS & SOCIETIES

1) International AIDS Society	2008 – present
2) Society for Epidemiologic Research	2011 – present
3) International Epidemiological Association	2014 – present

6. PUBLICATIONS

7. RESEARCH GRANTS

A. GRANTS CURRENTLY HELD

Rapid Self-Testing to Prevent Fentanyl Overdose among Young People who use Drugs

Role on Project: Principal Investigator

Funder: Brown University Research Seed Fund

Project Period: Mar 1, 2017 – Feb 28, 2018

Total Awarded: $50,000

Description: This pilot study will test the feasibility of a rapid "take home" fentanyl testing intervention among drug-using young adults.

Enhancing Population Impact of HIV Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis Implementation

Role on Project: Principal Investigator

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute of Mental Health)

Project Period: Apr 5, 2016 – Mar 31, 2018

Total Amount: $458,596

Project Identifier: R21-MH109360

Description: This project uses data from a statewide PrEP implementation project to model and evaluate the program's impact on HIV transmission at the community level.

Highly Adaptive Epidemic Control Strategies for HIV Prevention in Drug Users

Role on Project: Principal Investigator

Project Period: July 1st, 2015 – June 30th, 2020

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Total Amount: $1,500,000

Project Identifier: DP2-DA040236

Description: This project will determine how combination HIV prevention programs should be prioritized to reduce and eventually eliminate HIV transmission among people who inject drugs (PWID). A novel approach known as agent-based modeling will be used to inform how HIV prevention strategies for PWID should be tailored to specific epidemics and contexts.

Prescription Drug Overdose Prevention for States

Role on Project: Subcontract Principal Investigator

Project Period: September 15, 2015 – September 14, 2019

Funder: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)

Total Amount: $82,943

Project Identifier: RFA-CE15-1501

Description: The objective of this grant is to develop a drug overdose “dashboard” in which to conduct, track, and evaluate overdose surveillance activities in the state of Rhode Island.

Impacts of Universal Access to HIV/AIDS Care among HIV+ Injection Drug Users

Role on Project: Co-Investigator (PI: M. Milloy)

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Project Period: Jun 1, 2017 – May 31, 2022

Project Identifier: U01-DA021525

Description: The objective of this project is to examine the effects of prescription opioid misuse on injection initiation, cessations, HIV behavior, and overdose among substance users in Vancouver, Canada. This prospective cohort study will also illuminate individual, social, and structural factors that shape early and established injecting careers.

Socio-Cultural Contexts and Young Men’s Sexual Lives

Role on Project: Collaborator (PI: J.A. Shoveller)

Funder: Canadian Institutes of Health Research

Project Period: July 15, 2016 – July 15, 2021

Total Amount: $573,375

Project Identifier: 365548

Description: The objective of this study is to evaluate three intervention programs designed to reduce young men’s STI/HIV risks in BC, Canada. The data generated will inform the effective and ethical adaptation and scaling up of these interventions in ways that enhance their capacity to positively affect the sexual health of young men at risk for STI/HIV.

Juvenile Court Approaches to Reduce Reproductive Health Disparities

Role on Project: Co-Investigator (PI: M. Tolou-Shams)

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Project Period: September 1st, 2015 – August 31st, 2017

Total Amount: $455,157

Project Identifier: R21-HD082330

Description: This study seeks to propose to understand macro (policy) and meso (system)-level factors that may hinder and enable the development and implementation of court-public health partnerships to increase access and availability of sexual health services for court-involved, non-incarcerated juveniles.

Vancouver Drug Users Study: Evaluating the Natural History of Injection Drug Use

Role on Project: Co-Investigator (PI: T. Kerr)

Project Period: Dec 1, 2014 – Nov 30, 2019

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Total Amount: $4,850,857

Project Identifier: U01-DA038886

Description: The objective of this project is to examine the effect of prescription opioid misuse on injection initiation, cessation, HIV risk behavior, and overdose among substance users in Vancouver, Canada. This prospective cohort study will also illuminate individual, social, and structural factors that shape early and established injecting careers.

Gender-Responsive Drug Use Treatment for Juvenile Justice Girls

Role on Project: Co-Investigator (PI: M. Tolou-Shams)

Project Period: September 1, 2014 – June 30th, 2019

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Total Amount: $2,992,830

Project Identifier: R01-DA035231

Description: This study will advance scientific knowledge and clinical practice in the drug treatment and public health fields by testing the efficacy of a pre-existing, widely disseminated gender-responsive substance use treatment (VOICES) on drug use and HIV/STI risk behavior outcomes for substance-using, court-involved, non-incarcerated girls.

Prescription Drug Monitoring Programs and Opioid-Related Harm

Role on Project: Consultant (PI: M. Cerdá)

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Project Period: Apr 15th, 2016 – Jan 31st, 2019

Project Identifier: R01-DA039962

Total Amount: $928,264

Description: This project will test the impact of variations in prescription drug monitoring program (PDMP) characteristics on rates of hospitalizations due to prescription opioid and heroin overdose across 16 U.S. states.

Localized Economic Modeling to Optimize Public Health Strategies for HIV Treatment and Prevention

Role on Project: Consultant (PI: B. Nosyk)

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Project Period: Mar 1st, 2016 – Feb 28th, 2021

Project Identifier: R01-DA041747

Total Amount: $2,475,535

Description: The purpose of this project is to explore localized economic modeling to optimize public health strategies and cost-effectiveness for HIV treatment and prevention.

Novel Methods for Research on Young Rural Opioid Users at Risk of HIV, HCV & OD

Role on Project: Consultant (PI: H.L. Cooper & A.M. Young)

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Project Period: July 1st, 2016 – June 30th, 2018

Project Identifier: R21-DA042727

Total Amount: $244,437

Description: This mixed-methods study will lay the foundations for a new generation of high-impact multilevel research and interventions into how risk environments influence NMPO and heroin use; injecting transitions; and HIV, hepatitis C, and overdose risk among young adults in multiple US rural counties.

Non-Medical Use of Prescription Opioids Among HIV-Infected Individuals: Trajectories and Impact on Health Outcomes

Role on Project: Consultant (PI: E.J. Edelman)

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Project Period: Jul 1, 2015 – Jun 30, 2018

Project Identifier: R01-DA040471

Total Amount: $238,688

Description: The aims of this study are to use existing longitudinal data on HIV+ individuals in the Veterans Aging Cohort Study to characterize trajectories of non-medical use of prescription opioids (NMUPO) and the association between NMUPO and HIV-related outcomes.

The Impact of Alternative Social Assistance Disbursement on Drug-Related Harm: A Randomized Controlled Trial

Role on Project: Collaborator (PI: T. Kerr)

Project Period: Oct 1, 2014 – Sept 31, 2017

Funder: Canadian Institutes of Health Research

Total Amount: $366,212

Project Identifier: MOP-136827

Description: This grant proposes a 26-week, parallel, multi-armed assessor blinded randomized controlled trial to test the impact of alternative disbursement arrangements on the escalation of drug-related harms coinciding with cheque issue day in Vancouver's Downtown Eastside.

Drug Use and HIV/STI Risk Trajectories in Court-Involved, Non-Incarcerated Juvenile Offenders

Role on Project: Co-Investigator (PI: M. Tolou-Shams)

Project Period: Sept 1, 2013 – June 30, 2018

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Total Amount: $2,418,096

Project Identifier: R01-DA034538

Description: This project seeks to examine the developmental trajectories of drug use, HIV/STI risk behaviors, psychiatric symptoms, and recidivism among court-involved, non-incarcerated youth. Individual, family, and community risk and protective factors will also be investigated.

The British Columbia Addiction Network (Canadian Research Initiative in Substance Misuse)

Role on Project: Collaborator

Project Period: December 1st, 2014 – November 11th, 2019

Total: $1,712,635

Funder: Canadian Institutes of Health Research (Neurosciences, Mental Health, and Addiction)

Description: This project aims to establish a collaborative team of addiction researchers, service providers, and affected community members positioned to establish a network and undertake addiction clinical trials as part of the Canadian Research Initiative in Substance Misuse.

HIV Risk Environments Among FSW and DU: A Longitudinal Ethno-Epidemiology Approach

Role on Project: Consultant (PIs: T. Kerr, K. Shannon)

Project Period: February 2, 2012 – January 31, 2017

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Total Amount: $1,792,589

Project Identifier: R01-DA033147

Description: This project adopts a longitudinal ethno-spatial approach to elucidate the complex pathways between social, structural, and physical environments within sex work and drug scenes and their influence on HIV risk and HIV treatment outcomes.

B. COMPLETED GRANTS

Exploring Transitions to Injecting Among Young Adult Non-Medical Opioid Users

Role on Project: Principal Investigator

Project Period: May 15, 2014 – April 30, 2017

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Total Amount: $337,438

Project Identifier: R03-DA037770

Description: The objective of this study is to determine risk factors for injection drug use initiation among young adult non-medical prescription opioid (NMPO) users. The results of this work will inform the development of interventions to prevent injecting initiation and reduce HIV transmission in NMPO-using populations.

Implementation of HIV Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis for Men who have Sex with Men with and without Substance Use in Providence and New Haven

Role on Project: Co-Principal Investigator

Project Period: October 1, 2015 – September 30, 2016

Funder: Lifespan/Tufts/Brown Center for AIDS Research (LTB CFAR) & the Yale University Center for Interdisciplinary Research on AIDS (CIRA)

Total Amount: $40,000

Description: The goal of this pilot study is to: (1) examine the clinical and behavioral characteristics of patients who present to Providence and New Haven-based PrEP clinics by referral source; 2) evaluate clinical and behaviors characteristics, including patterns of substance use, of patients who initiate PrEP; and 3) determine the impact of clinical and behavioral characteristics, including substance use, on PrEP adherence and retention-in-care at 3 months.

Team Grant on Social and Structural Violence and HIV Among Vulnerable Populations

Role on Project: Collaborator (PIs: K. Shannon, T. Kerr)

Project Period: September 1, 2011 – August 31, 2016

Funder: Canadian Institutes of Health Research (Institute of Gender and Health)

Total Amount: $1,270,028

Project Identifier: 251559

Description: This project examines how social and structural violence produce and reproduce interpersonal violence and HIV risk among sex workers and people who use drugs.

Sexual Minority Populations Resource Core

Role on Project: Co-Investigator (PI: D. Operario)

Project Period: November 1, 2012 – August 31, 2016

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism)

Total Amount: $1,630,884

Project Identifier: U24-AA022000

Description: The purpose of this U24 is to develop and implement a resource core at the Alcohol Research Center on HIV (PO1-AA19072, PI: Monti) to address HIV and alcohol outcomes in sexual minority populations.

Rhode Island Defeats Hep C

Role on Project: Co-Investigator (PI: L. Taylor)

Project Period: June 1, 2013 – May 30, 2016

Funder: Rhode Island Foundation

Total Amount: $300,000

Description: The goal of this project is to eradicate hepatitis C in Rhode Island by developing a comprehensive plan that includes building community awareness, rapid testing, linkage to care, and creating infrastructure for a sustainable model of HCV prevention, treatment, and care, and evaluation.

The Vancouver Interdisciplinary Collaboration on Supervised Drug Consumption Research

Role on Project: Collaborator (PI: T. Kerr)

Project Period: January 1, 2011 – March 31, 2016

Funder: Canadian Institutes of Health Research (Institute of Health Services & Policy Research)

Total Amount: $771,579

Project Identifier: MOP-111039

Description: A study to examine the long-term impacts of drug consumption facilities on drug use patterns and street level violence.

Community Vulnerability and Responses to Drug-User-Related HIV/AIDS

Role on Project: Co-Investigator (PI: S. Friedman)

Project Period: Sept 1, 2013 – April 30th, 2015

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Total Amount: $2,418,096

Project Identifier: R01-DA01336

Description: The goal of this project is to develop an integrated theory (using agent based modeling) of how processes such as economic changes, social integration, and arrest & incarceration interact to affect key HIV epidemiologic outcomes among drug users, and to determine the impacts of various interventions in these social contexts.

Investigating and addressing injection drug use and other harms among street-involved youth:

The ARYS Project

Role on Project: Collaborator (PI: E. Wood)

Project Period: April 1, 2010 – March 31, 2015

Funder: Canadian Institutes of Health Research (Institute of Population and Public Health)

Total Amount: $989,737

Project Identifier: MOP-102742

Description: A study to examine the individual, social, environmental, and structural influences on risk behaviour and infectious disease incidence among street-involved youth.

Initiation of Injection Drug Use and HIV Risks Among Street-Involved Youth

Role on Project: Consultant (PI: E. Wood)

Project Period: April 15, 2010 – February 28, 2015

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Total Amount: $2,075,576

Project Identifier: R01-DA028532

Description: A study to examine the incidence of injection initiation and related drug- and sexual- HIV risks among street-involved youth.

Hepatitis C Virus Transmission Dynamics Among Injection Drug Users

Role on Project: Collaborator (PIs: M. Kraiden, J. Grebely)

Project Period: October 1, 2011 – September 30, 2014

Funder: Canadian Institutes of Health Research (Institute of Population and Public Health)

Total Amount: $336,569

Project Identifier: 244939

Description: A study to assess hepatitis C virus (HCV) transmission dynamics, including HCV incidence, phylogenetics, and phylodynamics among injection drug users.

Complex systems approaches to examine combination HIV prevention programs for drug users

Role on Project: Principal Investigator

Project Period: June 1, 2012 – August 31, 2013

Funder: Lifespan/Tufts/Brown Center for AIDS Research

Total Amount: $39,883

Project Identifier: P30-AI042853

Description: This project seeks to develop a novel complex systems dynamics approach to examine how sets of interventions may effectively eliminate HIV transmission among drug users in the United States.

Treatment as Prevention – biomedical and behavioural interventions to eliminate the HIV epidemic among injection drug users

Role on Project: Co-Investigator (PI: K. Vasarhelyi)

Project Period: June 1, 2010 – May 31, 2011

Funder: Canadian Institutes of Health Research (Institute of Infection and Immunity)

Total Amount: $62,600

Project Identifier: 31-711178

Description: A study to construct mathematical models of HIV epidemics among injection drug users and to evaluate the effect of combined biomedical and behavioural interventions.

C. PROPOSALS SUBMITTED

Prenatal Opioid Exposure and Neonatal Health Impairment

Role on Project: Co-Investigator

Funder: National Institutes of Health

Project Period: Sept 1, 2017 – Aug 31, 2022

Project Identifier:

Description: we propose to evaluate the contribution of opioid exposure to a range of neonatal health problems that result in prolonged hospitalization or use of the neonatal intensive care unit (NICU).

The Rhode Island Young Adult Prescription Drug Study (RAPIDS): Responding to Fentanyl Use and Associated Harms

Role on Project: Principal Investigator

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Project Period: July 1, 2017 – June 30, 2022

Project Identifier: R01-DA044266

Total Requested: $3,603,350

Description: The study will prospectively follow drug-using young adults to gain critical new insights into the epidemiology of non-pharmaceutical fentanyl, a highly potent synthetic opioid. Results from this study will improve public health efforts to address the fentanyl overdose epidemic and prevent exposure to drugs contaminated with fentanyl among young adults.

Evaluating the Implementation and Impact of a Novel Medication Assisted Treatment Program in a Unified Jail and Prison System

Role on Project: Co-Investigator (PI: J. Rich)

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Project Period: Jan 1, 2017 – Dec 31, 2018

Project Identifier: R21-DA043487

Total Requested: $275,000

Description: This research aims to evaluate a comprehensive medication assisted treatment (MAT) program delivered to inmates at a unified jail and prison system in Rhode Island.

Developing Patient-Level Risk Prediction Models for Prescription Opioid Overdose

Role on Project: Co-Investigator (PI: S. Henry)

Funder: National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

Project Period: July 1, 2017 – June 30, 2021

Description: The objective of this project is to examine the effects of prescription opioid misuse on injection initiation, cessations, HIV behavior, and overdose among substance users in Vancouver, Canada. This prospective cohort study will also illuminate individual, social, and structural factors that shape early and established injecting careers.

14. RESEARCH SUMMARY

My research focuses on the causes and consequences of addiction, HIV/AIDS, and the social, environmental, and structural determinants of the health of urban populations. My work seeks to inform interventions that mitigate the sequelae of addiction (notably overdose), prevent bloodborne disease transmission, and understand the etiology of suicide, trauma, and depression among people who use and inject drugs. To achieve these aims, I employ a diverse set of quantitative methods, including longitudinal analytic techniques to evaluate non-randomized public health interventions and micro-simulation models to estimate the causal effect of interventions on population health outcomes.
